FOREWORD

CONTENTS

Administration and Faculty

Seniors

The purpose of the Zenith is to record the scope of the intellectual, social and moral growth of the students of Weehawken High School. First, we would focus your attention by mechanical sketches on our appreciation of all scientific study. Secondly, by illustrations and description, the Zenith staff has endeavored to epitomize social and personal phases of three profitable and enjoyable years at our Alma Mater.

We, the Class of 1954, are proud to dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Richard Miller. His excellent work in all his endeavors has won him the respect and admiration of students and faculty alike. He has helped to effect a student government in which the students of Weehawken High School through observing and participating have learned to appreciate the material and spiritual values of democracy. For his keen interest and competent guidance we extend our sincerest thanks.

Reflecting the Life of Weehawken High School

SUPERINTENDENT

DR. NEIL J. GEARY

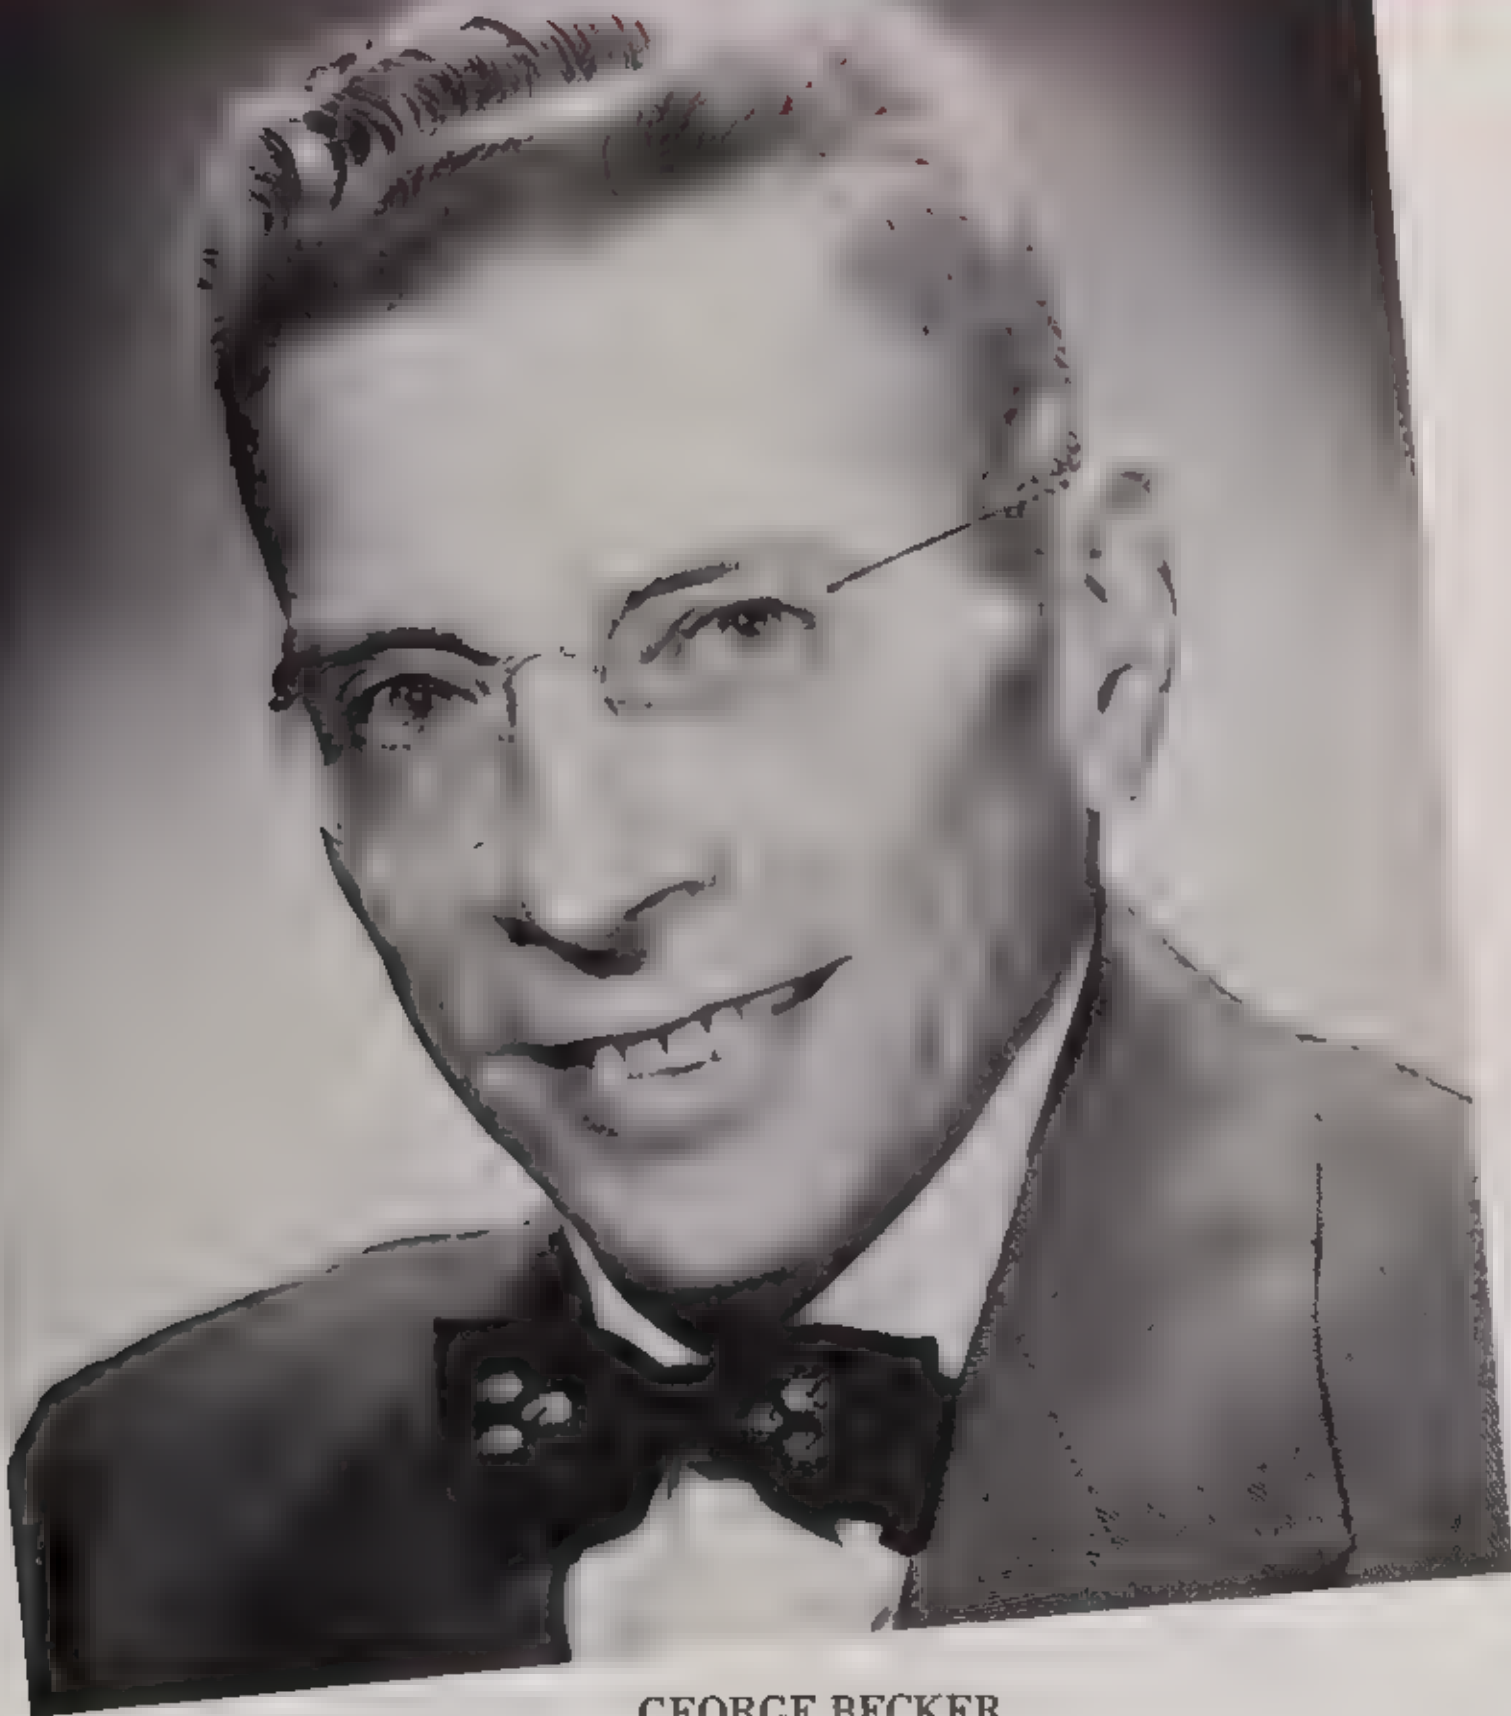

To the Students of Weehawken High School — Many of the features which have had meaning for Weehawken High School are found in this year-book. These features have been created and nurtured by those who have been members of our school organization in the past.

These people found values in these features and have left them as a common heritage for all. They have become some of the means which other individuals have found worthwhile as ways of realizing their possibilities and of living happily together.

The Weehawken High School has certain organizational features, and there are certain generally accepted ideals, traditions and practices associated with its history. What it may mean to you, however, depends in large measure on your accomplishments.

If Weehawken High School offers anything, it offers you and all students who became part of it the opportunity of realizing your own personal satisfaction in ways that are individual for you but which are socially desirable and approved.

PRINCIPAL

GEORGE BECKER

To the members of the Class of 1954 I express my congratulations and best wishes for future success and happiness. Your period of tenure in this school is rapidly drawing to a close, but the fond memories, incidents and events captured in this publication will forever live and be close to those things and people of your life. It is my sincere hope that while here you have gained the knowledge and wisdom provided in class experiences, but I most fervently desire that you have developed into kind, sympathetic and uprighteous individuals, tolerant and understanding of human rights, fully equipped to assume your responsibilities and obligations in the perpetuation of our ideals in this our democratic way of life.

If these things be realized, then truly the work of our school and your efforts toward these ends will forever represent the most fruitful and beneficial investment of your lives.

DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

We perplexed seniors found a second home in the Guidance Office this past year. We entered the ever-open door full of queries and apprehensions and left laden with pamphlets, encouragement and enthusiasm. Miss Gouled showed us that there is no problem which cannot be solved when faced squarely; she instilled faith in our capabilities but never false illusions. However, Miss Gouled's services were not confined exclusively to seniors. As Guidance Director she planned a program which helped each student meet his educational, occupational and personal problems. We were made to feel confident through her efforts that there is a part for each of us to play in this world. The future will spell out our gratitude.

ALICE E. GOULED

SUPERVISOR OF INSTRUCTION

MARGARET I. HOGAN

Why is Weehawken High up to the minute in modern education? The answer to this question is largely due to Miss Hogan, our Supervisor of Instruction. This busy lady keeps the faculty keyed to current trends and aids to education by securing visual aids and meeting with representatives of the publishers. We are also indebted to Miss Hogan for bringing to our halls the color and spirit of Christmas. She serves as a watchful administrative link between the office and faculty, and from this we all reap benefits.

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

In years to come, with a nostalgic smile—we will probably recall our senior year at Weehawken as the happiest of our youth. Every successful undertaking must have the direction of cooperative “go-getters,” and these words characterize our Senior Executive Committee and Senior Class adviser, Mrs. Garrity. Under their leadership we established a precedent by exceeding our goal in the magazine drive and making a successful Zenith drive. The Class of 1954 had another “first”,—remember the masquerade? Will we ever forget the frill, fuss and thrill of our Senior Prom or the lighthearted joy of the boatride? We express our thanks to the Senior Executive Committee and our adviser—for memories we will always treasure.

Class Adviser.*

MISS HONISS
Senior Play Director

As the moment drew closer, behind the footlights there was much fidgeting and some frightening shrieks of, "I can't remember my lines!" On the outer side of the curtain the house lights dimmed and an anxious hush crept over the audience. As the curtain parted, it revealed a capable company, living and loving every stage second. The audience was moved to laughter and tears awaiting the outcome of the romantic triangle and reliving many incidents we've all shared.

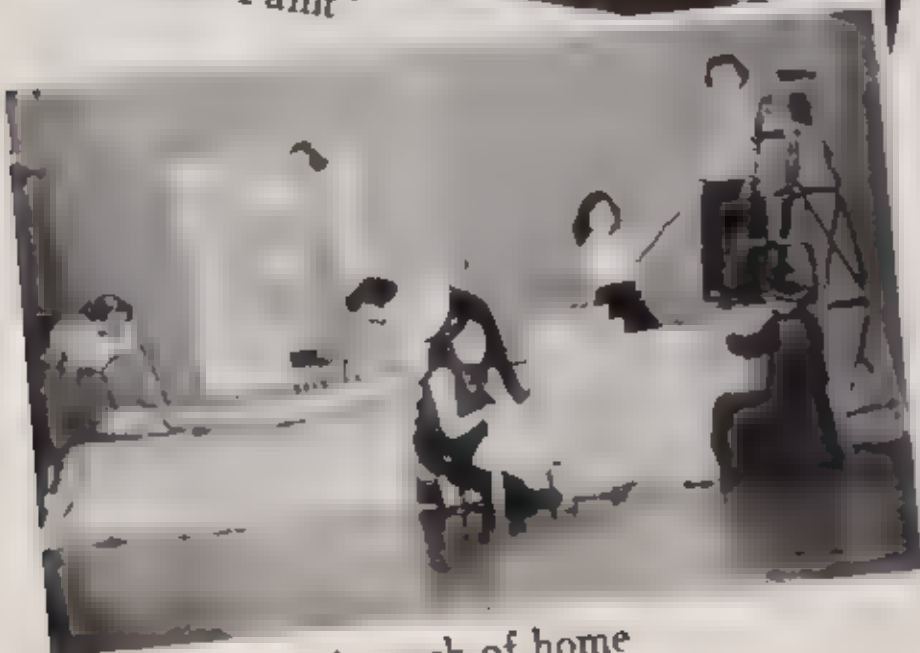

Miss Honiss, off-stage, thought of rehearsals, the search for thespians, props and crews. Her hard work, patience and love of young people had scored another hit.

A student's dream come true! Wishful thinking became reality on March 24, 1954 when seniors ran the show by filling all the school positions from Superintendent of Schools to custodians. The faculty and staffs were selected by a student-elected Board of Education, from candidates submitted by the teachers.

Suave seniors were aware of their new positions and in full command of the situation. (We won't mention the sound of shaking knees as they called classmates to order or executed the business at hand).

P.S. It was fun while it lasted, but we'll consent to let things go on normally, at least for a while.

SENIOR POLL

Class Will of 1954

We, the graduating class of 1954, being of sound mind and faculties and having served our full sentence at this institution, do hereby bequeath the sum and substance of our three years of education and observation, as indicated below, thereby voiding all wills heretofore published or contemplated.

In grateful recognition of the services rendered by the administrative staff, we direct our executors to pay all our debts, especially our debt of gratitude.

To the faculty as a whole we bequeath a long sigh of relief and a well-deserved ~~rest~~.

To next year's graduating class we leave all duplicate copies of admit slips plus a volume of The Art of Forgery for convenience at strategic moments.

To the sophomores we will tickets to the elevators, cafeterias and swimming pool so that they may properly distribute them to the incoming class.

To the new class of sophomores we bequeath a fictitious freshmen class so they will be only the second lowest form of animal life.

To Mr. Becker we bequeath a fifty foot yacht on which to forget all but the planned.

To Miss Gouled we will a year in which all schedules will be accepted as pleasantest memories of the Class of '54.

To the custodial staff we give permission to leave our initials and cartoons as etched for posterity.

To Mr. Rossman we leave more boys for the chorus and complete attendance at rehearsals.

To Mr. Pagnotta we leave a universe as democratic as his classes.

To Mr. Fox we leave the job of molding potential Rembrandts and Picassos.

To Mr. Miller we bequeath a tape recording of all the remarks issued from the "cheap seats" and all our excess scrap and graph paper.

To Mr. Kups we leave our broken glassware and students with pertinent questions.

To Miss Powell we leave a round trip ticket to Japan with all expenses paid.

To Miss MacArdle we leave our illusions of getting I's in Senior English.

To Miss Alexovits we leave a dictionary of such vital historical facts as "the color of General Grant's horse" to check the thoroughness of history students.

To Mrs. Welland we bequeath our alluring gym suits to dispose of by any means possible.

To the gym classes we leave money to provide for an elevator from the gym to the study hall.

To Mr. Strukel we leave complimentary copies of this year's Zenith.

To the Student Prints we leave a ten year deficitless period.

To all the underclassmen we leave a three year old dream of sliding down the banister between classes and all our treasured texts—complete with personal notations.

To the world at large we give ourselves to scatter to whatever paths and by whatever means deemed fitting in the hope that we won't come as too much of a shock.

The remainder we will to next year's Zenith staff.

In witness whereof, we have here unto subscribed our names and affixed our seals this twenty-first day of June, 1954.

This We Remember

It seems only yesterday we were swept along in a wave of white dresses, red roses, and senior pins. We were treading on spun-candy clouds and overwhelmed by our own importance. We spent the last moments with our classmates pledging everlasting friendships and averting near tragedies by getting an almost forgotten autograph. With the eager, possessive seizure of a diploma we severed our childhood ties and crowned ourselves with the glory of "adulthood".

Our years of "apprenticeship" in Junior High closed and took their relegated place in the past. It was a time of apprehensive watching and waiting. The Spring of 1951 found a bevy of youngsters cautiously climbing the hill to Weehawken High. We were the incoming crop of sophomores come to be orientated. While we feigned a blase expression,—we couldn't deny the unrest of our inner selves. Oh, to be able to melt into the surrounding scenery! We were ushered into the auditorium to hear speeches on the many aspects of high school life. Spellbound, we listened with undivided attention and interspersed mechanical laughter at strategic moments. Then we were led through a maze of corridors and stairways until we had surveyed the entire building. Upstairs, in the Music Room, we found relaxation in the form of cokes and cookies. Free from earlier tensions, we cautiously appraised those strangers who were to be our future classmates. We left Weehawken that day praying for an early Autumn.

A gentle Indian Summer day welcomed us to school the following September. We were full-fledged sophomores, furtive but optimistic about the years ahead. Remember the first days? Confidently we started to climb a stairway only to feel a hand on our shoulder directing us to an "up" stairway.

In English class we made copies of the Alma Mater for memorization. We were a bit piqued at the prospect of having to rise in deference to upperclassmen in the auditorium, but found comfort in our number. We swarmed to the first Friday night dance, anxious to meet and be met by the "older crowd". Oh, the ineffable joy of being asked to dance by a senior. We cheered the loudest at the basketball games, joined clubs and avidly scanned the first issue of the "Student Prints" for our names. By the time Fall changed into Winter, we had made friends of our teachers. We came to know and like our classmates and soon a number of "school steadies" were walking hand in hand around the building.

The following Fall we passed our mantle to new sophomores while we assumed the title of Juniors. It was now our turn to mildly torment the new class and flaunt our superiority. Fifty-three was an outstanding year for sports. We won two state championships and positively glowed with pride. Will our relatives ever forgive us for badgering them with Christmas card sales? Some of us will be exchanging "Currier and Ives" greetings for many a Yuletide until we deplete our private stock. As the wind of Winter slackened, talk of the Junior Social mounted. Our class was afire with energy and preparations for the best Social Weehawken had ever had. We worked uncounted hours fixing streamers and painting fish which transformed the gym into a magical "city beneath the sea". Although this, the climax of our second year, was over, we knew the best was yet to come.

Seniors! What other word could produce such tremors of indescribable joy? This was our year to reign.

The first big event of the year was the Senior Play. Remember the anxiety of tryouts and the wonderful grind of rehearsals? We all contributed in some capacity working zealously to produce a hit. Orientals, pirates and story book characters came to life one March evening at the Senior Masquerade. It was fun to step out of our own role and become someone else for a while. We had a rugged campaign for magazine and ad subscriptions which burst the bulb atop our fund gauge. We remember the stardust of the Prom, the pranks on the Boatribe and poking fun on Class Night . . . but added to these memories were the undeniable signs of an awakening maturity. We became cognizant of a whole world beckoning to us beyond the confines of Weehawken High, and we felt the buds of restlessness growing. For twelve years we had been preparing for adulthood, and now it was upon us with all its responsibilities. We realized that we would scatter "o'er varied pathways", and become estranged from many of our schoolday chums. On the eve of graduation we sat transfixed, mulling over these thoughts, trying to visualize what the future held, and when, if ever, our pathways would cross again. That night the Alma Mater became more than a set of words. It was sung with a tear as its truth was felt in the heart of each of us.

Was it only yesterday? Time in its inimitable fashion has silently consigned these years to history. In the life ahead we will alternately sigh and chuckle at the things we did and the thoughts we had, but we will always revere them . . . This we remember!

Each year this organization, under the direction of Mr. Miller, undertakes a variety of worthwhile projects. These are the sale of Red Cross buttons, tuberculosis bangles and students' bus tickets, the establishment of a noon time study hour, student day and fifteen minute pep sessions after assemblies. Thanks to council's publicity committee we have been kept informed over the public address system of current Weehawken High School athletic events.

At the meeting of the New Jersey Student Council Association, student representatives attended clinical discussions of other student council organizations and gained a great deal of information with which they hope to aid our own council organization. They have also made a report to the New Jersey Student Council Association describing our student organization.

Our student government organization is one of which we can be proud—it helps us to live and learn democracy.

Hurried consultations, frenzied exclamations, endless yards of galleys and proof reading!—Another deadline has rolled around, and the Student Prints goes to press! When it finally arrives on Friday during fourth period, silence reigns in all classes as we look for our news in print. There are articles to suit every taste: news, views, class room quips, sports highlights and features running the gamut of interviews with famous figures to fashion slants. Our Editor-in-Chief, Paula Ross; and Associate Editor Marjorie Knaster; and Business Manager, Arlene Larsen have good reason to be proud of their "brainchild."

Mr. Schichtel and Mr. Beisswanger, faculty advisers, are satisfied with a job well done.

Robert Wieboldt, Captain

Remember how ominous Wrenawken's halls looked during our first days as sophomores? We found ourselves looking for Typing I in the foreign language corridor and walking down "up" stairways. Invariably, we would turn to the "cop" in every corner" (a traffic boy) to show us the way. These friendly "policemen" kept us walking "the straight and narrow" which usually managed to get us to class on time.

"Pep cards for sale!" was the cry of our Burton Shelley Debaters throughout the basketball season. In this way the members have financed The Burton Shelley Memorial Award that is presented at graduation to the senior who has shown the greatest promise in the art of democratic living.

On the national debate topic, "How Should We Select the President of the United States?", a formal debate emerged. Current event topics were discussed and pondered.

The result of these activities is a successful record and pleasant thoughts for the members of this organization.

Watch that ball roll!

BOWLING CLUB

Watch the ball travel! Look it's a strike! Each week if you saunter to the Union Palace bowling alleys you find sophomores, juniors and seniors in friendly competition for the highest scores. In charge of Weehawken's bowling champs is Mr. Ferris, a man who is really "on the ball." It is evident from the long list of scores posted weekly that this club enjoys both success and popularity.

CHES AND SCRABBLE CLUB

Checkmate! Scrabble! These familiar cries are issued from E2 every other week when the war of the knight and the war of words are staged simultaneously. As scrabble sweeps the nation, it sweeps Weehawken and proves a popular addition to our "varsity teams." Competition is keen, and the enthusiasts sometimes find a surprise or two for Webster.

The strategists of the club upheld our honor in the Hudson County Chess Tournaments this year.

An addition to Weehawken's roster of clubs this year is the History Club. This group, under the direction of Mr. Pagnotta, helps to provide the students with a better understanding of social and political problems of the day and the operation of our federal, state and local government. They observed a session of Weehawken's night court and saw "history in the making" at the United Nations.

Dee's suffers a sorry decrease in popularity every Friday at 12:40 when hurried groups of Seniors can be seen making the exhausting climb to Weehawken's "penthouse." Eager "braves" are on hand to "spin a cool platter," grab a "squaw" and do the "lindy" Weehawken style or the "mont-clair." This year the "danciest chief" ever in the person of Bruce McGarey was never too busy to see that the people on the sidelines got a chance to show dancing style.

Swing it hot! Play it blue! Give it a Latin beat! The nimble feet of junior terpsichoreans are well trained in everything from the "Bunny Hop" to the "Creep." (What better proof than the agile eager beavers who crowd the dance floor at the Junior Dance?) They practice to make perfect every Tuesday in Weehawken's "Junior Ballroom", the music room.

SOPHOMORE

Hear these feet? These are happy feet! These dance enthusiasts really like to spread their joy each Thursday in the Music Room. April 9 was a banner day for members and their friends when the group held a successful social. Whether "waltzing along in the blue" or "twoing a tango," these girls and boys can sever any rug with their animated feet.

SPANISH CLUB

"Dios Mio", the Spanish Club has been "muy magnifico!" La Senora Reisch and her entourage of "luchadoras" had a very active year. Their activities were many and varied, and covered both activities as well as international interests. On the home front they sold at the basketball games used and cleaned up and auctioned them and contributed toys to a local orphanage. To solidify South American relations, they exchanged letters and sent an album picturing the American way of life. To highlight the year they went to New York to see a Spanish movie and eat "tortillas y arroz con pollo." Y ahora nos despedimos de nuestros amigos hasta el año proximo.

GERMAN CLUB

Verstehen Sie Deutsch? Come, join the German Club! Under the direction of "Frau Dolson," these boys and girls have a fine time speaking in German, listening to records of that language, and seeing German films. In addition, the club found time to hold a very enjoyable dance this year. They were also happy to send "Weihnachtsgeschenke" to a local orphanage.

DRAMATIC WORKSHOP

On passing English 5, one might be surprised to see a group of theater aspirants busily talking shop. They are members of the Dramatic Workshop whose purpose is as the name implies . . . to be of service to those students who are interested in the theater. Under the direction of Miss Beller, the Bernhards and Barrymores of our school are offered an outlet for their heretofore suppressed dramatic talent. This year the club did a wonderful job of putting on various plays, which were enjoyed by all.

What student doesn't remember the last frenzied hours before the deadline of the final copy of his theme? If lacking in certain pertinent information, there was only one thing to do—rush over to our school library to peer through stacks of Reader's Guides in search of suitable periodicals. Then one of the student librarians scurried off to the stockroom for the magazines.

How indispensable is our library with all its information! We certainly are grateful to Miss Roelker and her staff of twenty-five student librarians for keeping our stock up to date and our library a friendly quiet place in which to study.

"Winter Wonderland" at our Christmas

One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine teens come forward to blend their voices in perfect harmony. The group, composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors is ably conducted by Mr. Hopkins. They sing at many of our assemblies, and as always, they are a pleasure to hear.

ORCHESTRA

Like melodies of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin," the sweet musical refrains of the Weehawken School Orchestra lure music lovers to our auditorium every week. Under the direction of Mr. Rossman, these young musicians from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes practice diligently each Monday afternoon. In addition to playing for our assembly programs, they perform at graduation services and at all other special occasions.

MIXED CHORUS

"Sing and the world sings with you." The Mixed Chorus seems to have adopted this motto. Every Tuesday afternoon under the leadership of Mr. Rossman, the voices of our talented sophomores, juniors, and seniors blend in sweet harmony. At the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter assemblies, as well as the Spring Concert, our students and guests enjoy this "black and white special."

BAND

The Weehawken High School Band, performing as a concert and marching band, has long been one of the pleasures of our school. Composed of musicians from the grammar, junior high and high schools of Weehawken, they combine their individual musical talents to form a band of beautiful harmony. Under the direction of Mr. Brown, the band appears at important school and civic functions. The climax of their year's work is the annual Spring Concert, for which the band has a fine repertoire. Their music has given the school many hours of entertainment, and the student body appreciates their efforts.

"Smile Please!" Undoubtedly you have been accosted by a student carrying a camera and making this request, for at every important school event whether the Senior Play, basketball games, or an assembly program, there were members of our Photography Club taking pictures. Under the direction of Mr. Sarafian, the energetic members of the club have gathered to learn more about the camera, its functions and photographic techniques. Through this club and its facilities, those interested in photography constantly strive to improve their skill.

F. B. L. A.

Attention executives, stockholders and advertisers! Here come the "Future Business Leaders of America!" These capable stenographers and typists are ready to take their places among you. They have discussed the various technical aspects of business as well as the "little things" which help to develop them into welcome employees in your offices. In full knowledge of the fact that theory with observation is practical, they have visited the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to see business in action. They are eager to apply their accumulated efficiency.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Junior Red Cross of Weehawken High has long served as one of our most purposeful clubs. Its members have made the name of the club synonymous with good will. This year under the direction of Miss Arlinghaus, the group made packages of candy and contributed them to an orphanage. By such deeds, they have made themselves known throughout the township.

TWIRLERS

Twirl those batons! At our basketball games or our pep rallies, a familiar sight is the fancy stepping of our twirlers. Clad in red and black uniforms, these girls are synchronized motion personified. Under the direction of Miss Alexovits, the girls held a highly successful dance in February.

The Weehawken Redmen compiled a ten won, seven lost record this year and finished in a third place tie with Memorial. Having begun the season low on the totem pole, the Indians took to the war path after Christmas vacation by winning eight out of nine games. The team was led by highscorers, Ron Gorman and Bob Graham, scoring 291 and 165 points respectively. Also sparking the team were Steve Afferica, Ken Johnson, Ray House, and Arnold Zunz. Joe Pesciotta, Jack Anderson, Jack Dadaian, Arnold Perlmutter, Bruce Pearson, and Bob Wieboldt helped greatly to produce this successful season.

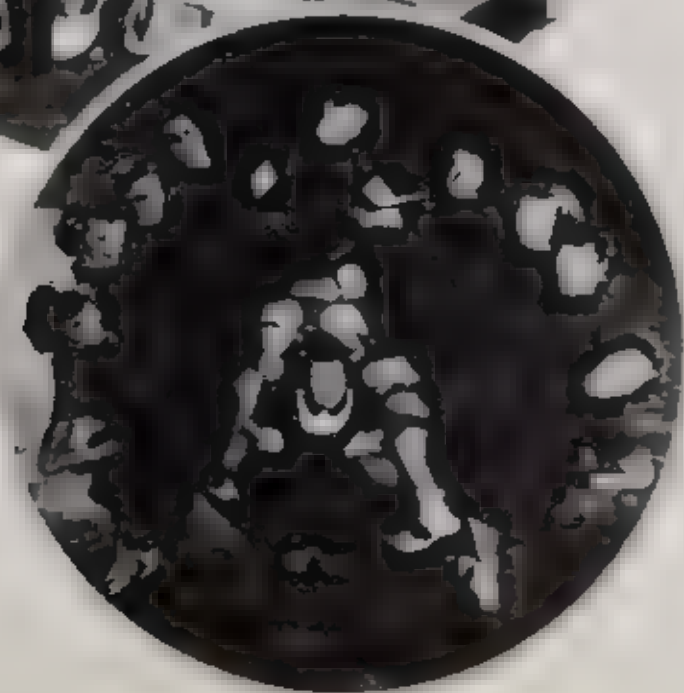

Special recognition goes to the J.V. squad which wound up with a 13-4 overall record and a 10-4 county record.

"CAUSE FOR JOY"

GROUP II STATE CHAMPIONS

With an outstanding exhibition of teamwork Coach Purvere's "Redmen" successfully defended its Group II State Championship at the Elizabeth Armory. This splendid win over the highly rated Sayreville team enabled Weehawken to become the first team in the thirty-five year history of the tournament to achieve a total of seven championships. Plaudits are certainly in order for Ronnie Gorman who netted a total of twenty-six points . . . and to Bob Graham and Jack Anderson who "peppered" away at the nets. Steve Afferica and Bruce Pearson were superb in their defense of the backboard.

Top point maker, Ronnie Gorman, was voted the most valuable player in the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association basketball tournament. A sensational shooter, Ronnie scored a dazzling total of 36 points piloting the Indians to a tremendous win in the semi-finals over the much favored Cranford team. In five tourney games Gorman scored 141 points.

SOCCER

This year the soccer team turned in another truly fine season and narrowly missed "racking up" its third straight state championship. The team was highlighted by a wealth of fine ballplayers such as George Forte and Pete Schwalbach, top scorers. Standout defense work was done by such staunch performers as Ron Gorman, Arnold Zunz, Kevin McGuinness, Harry Rayner and goalie, Ken Johnson.

We have every hope for another great season next year when key men like Jim Sabato, George Fahey, Rich Stratton and Frank Nagurka will form the nucleus of the team. They will be supplemented by other promising underclassmen such as John Wyss, Don Morrison, Art Cerny and Jack Anderson. It looks as though state championship soccer teams will no longer be a rarity to Weehawken High School as proved by recent performances.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

This Organization, under the direction of Mr. Wolf, strives to develop good sportsmanship and skill in basketball in all those who participate. The lightning and enthusiasm showed by the boys this past season demonstrate the success of these aims. To promote keener competition teams were organized, and captains were elected. Bruce Lasky's squad wound up the season by copping the Intramurals' basketball championship. Ronnie DeLaRoche's team, displaying a great deal of agility, ran a close second. The winners received keys at the end of the year.

Stetbe Scope

Our Heartfelt thanks to

Miss Gulick who directed the editorial aspects of the Zenith and gave her time and energy for the creation of this yearbook.

Mr. Strukel who managed the business end of the Zenith and was always on hand with ideas and advice.

Mrs. Garrity, our Senior Class adviser, who directed a year that we'll never forget.

Mrs. Dolson, our class adviser in our Junior year, for whose immeasurable assistance we are grateful.

Coach Purvere for assistance with the sport section.

Our many advertisers and patrons without whose support this yearbook would not be possible.
